CLASS of 1988

TABULA

DAVID CHRISTOPHER RYAN

What a year to look at!

Dedication

Not many teachers have the ability to find the necessary balance between education and lightheartedness. In the past ten years this gentleman has combined his exquisite teaching skills and sense of leadership with a unique brand of humor. Chemistry can be a particularly frustrating subject, however this teacher manages to create a relaxed environment in which students have every opportunity to learn. His most noted antics in class include the primate imitations atop desks and his anecdotes concerning his wild weekends. He has the students best interests at heart and never pressures them into something they are not capable of doing. In a way he is our most important class leader, taking charge of many of the responsibilities concerning the senior year. Whether organizing the senior prom, or overseeing our disciplinary problems, he can always be counted on to be a teacher, organizer, and friend. It is our great pleasure to dedicate the yearbook of the Class of 1988 to Mr. Robert B. Parr.

Appreciation

We as students tend to forget the people who make our lives easier and even bearable at the Academy. Mrs. Carol Tassoni and Mrs. Mary Visich definitely fit this description. Mrs. "T" is in charge of relaying all messages to the upper schoolers as well as circulating our daily bulletin. Without her behind the scenes work, many students would lead much harder lives. Despite the frenetic pace she maintains, Mrs. "T" always finds time to talk to any student about their problems. We always know we have a friend in her and for that we're grateful.

The process of applying to colleges can be very frustrating at times. In order to be successful, one must be patient, cooperative, and prompt with required information. Mrs. Mary Visich has been an invaluable part of the "college scene" at the Academy. She handles all phases of the applications and has saved many a lazy senior. Without her help it would be virtually impossible to maintain the success Episcopal graduates enjoy in college admissions. We are deeply indebted to her services and friendship. We, the class of 1988 would like to show our appreciation to Mrs. "V" and Mrs. "T".

The boy-man, younger than his eldest son,
Inherits the state; upon his silver hairs
Time like a panama hat sits at a tilt
And smiles, To him the world has just begun
And every city waiting to be built.

I enjoy certain things; no one else has to enjoy them, and I see things in a certain way, but no one else has to see those things in the same way. — Holly Johnson

Once In a Lifetime
You may find yourself
Living in a shotgun shack.
And you may find yourself
In another part of the world.
And you may find yourself
In a beautiful house,
With a beautiful wife,
And you may ask yourself
Well, how did I get here?
Letting the days go by,
Water flowing underground.
Into the blue again,
After the money's gone.
ONCE IN A LIFETIME.

Nicole Tanenbaum

Nicole Tanenbaum entered Episcopal in the eighth grade and immediately distinguished herself as one of the top scholars in our class. In her three years at EA, Nicole stood out from the rest of us; not as an outstanding athlete, not as an outgoing "party" type, but Nicole in her quiet and even shy manner was always there for her friends. She always knew exactly what was going on with everyone she cared about. She taught friendship with her life. Nicole changed all of us with her example of loyalty and love for her friends.

When Nicole was diagnosed as having leukemia, all of us, including Nicole and her family, were shocked. Yet even during her illness when I talked to her, she wanted to know everything about school; she wanted to keep up on what she was missing, so that, as she told me, when she "got back," she'd "fit right in again." Nicole's unselfish attitude, which we had all seen in her, shone through even as she battled the disease. Nicole's parents and brother supported and helped her; Nicole had more love in her sixteen years than most people are able to experience in their entire lives. Nicole was very close to her parents and brother; they were each other's best friend. Nicole's unique relationship with her family gave her the qualities of friendship that she, in turn, demonstrated to me as well as her other friends.

Coach Frank McAlpin.

The Cross Country Team had a successful season this year, finishing with a 7-7 record. It was considered a building year for the team which hopes to do considerably better in the future. In the Inter-Ac league meets, the team had a 2-3 record which is not consistent with its fifth place finish in the championship league meet.

Led by the outstanding captain, Dave Marston, the team was able to secure many first place finishes in the dual meets. Marston, who was named All-Inter-Ac, ran extremely well under pressure against Haverford, when he finished a full minute ahead of everyone else.

The number two spot on the team was constantly up for grabs between senior Dave Bergen and junior Jason McDermott. Bergen and McDermott started off slowly but gradually improved and became driving forces on the team in the last few meets. McDermott will return as co-captain next year along with David Gordon. Gordon and sophomores Matt Carpenter and Eugene Burroughs filled in the middle slots on the team.

In the number three spot on the team, Mike Rothenberg, a new senior runner, proved particularly strong. While some fell victim to injuries or other ailments, Rothenberg always maintained his position on the team.

Two other seniors, Jim Minnick and Dave Beers, also contributed to this year's season. They provided the experience and leadership that was needed to teach the underclassmen. Along with the other seniors on the team and captain Dave Marston and Coach Frank McAlpin, they increased the team's potential.

Injuries were a severe factor in this year's season. Most significantly, Matt Cascarino lost part of his foot to a lawnmower. With better luck and strong leadership from the juniors and the return of Coach Frank McAlpin the team should have an excellent future.

Coach Regina Buggy.

Although the record might indicate otherwise, the members of the 1987 Field Hockey team were fast and furious on their feet and swift with their sticks. Captains Mary Beth Bongiovanni and "Lightnin' Liz" Taraila led the team of nine seniors and three juniors through a series of intense practices and close games.

The attack, a potent combination of superb athletes, consisted of Kathy Beck, Molly "Guns" Gerber, Kim Zinman, and "Joltin' Jen" Haines, a group that didn't get the ball into the opponent's cage consistently enough. Next year's co-captain's Chris Percival, coming off of the bench, provided fresh legs for the forward line. Kim Zinman, the high scorer, and Liz Taraila recognized for their superior play by being selected to represent the Philadelphia Area Independent Schools in a hockey tournament in California.

The midfield, consisting of captains Bongiovanni and Taraila, and senior sensation Anne Heilman, provided the spark which ignited both offense and defense. The team relied on these three players to make the key plays, posing formidable offensive threats, as well as playing rock solid defense.

The defensive line provided more protection than the Great Wall of China. "Stoppin' Stacia" Burk, "Blockin' Becca" Huston, Cindy "The Cork" Cuffari, and goalie Priscilla Latta, made up this outstanding backfield. Cuffari, winner of most improved honors, stabilized the defense, while Latta, in her first full season in the cage, played with intensity and determination.

Coach Regina Buggy, in only her second year at Episcopal, guided the team with her experience and knowledge of the game. She was an inspiration both on and off of the field, giving valuable guidance and instruction.

Despite the disappointing season, every member of the team contributed immensely, increasing their own level of play as well. With nine players graduating, there will be significant gaps to fill, but under the leadership of next year's captains, Burk and Percival, the Academy can expect superior playing from its Girls' Field Hockey Team.

Coach Jim Auch.

Courage and determination do not begin to describe the characteristics of the 1987 Varsity Football team. Possessing one of the toughest schedules in the league, the Churchmen responded with a 6-3 campaign, with the 3 losses adding up to a total difference of eight points. The Churchmen rolled in their season opener as they crushed the Perkiomen School 46-13. One week later the squad suffered a tough defeat at the hands of The McDonough School, the 7th-ranked team in the city of Baltimore. Seven days later the gridders squeaked past the eventual Del-Val champion Penn Wood Knights.

The team's next game was one of the most exciting in the recent history of E.A. football. The Hill School was on its way to its best season in 26 years. They were able to mount two quick touchdowns in the early stages of the first half, but their offense was stifled shortly thereafter. E.A. was able to score at the beginning of the third quarter and scored once again on a beautiful run by Dennis Nicholson. The Churchmen opted to go for the two point conversion as their gamble fell inches short of paydirt.

The loss did nothing but rouse up the players as the Episcopals juggernaut outscored its next three opponents 100-31. For the second straight year the top two teams of the Inter-Academic league would square off for the title. The Malvern Friars looked as if they would leave with the E.A. field as they dominated the Churchmen in the first half, outscoring them 21-0. In one of the great comebacks in recent E.A. football history, quarterback Frank Mascaro brought the team back with 3 touchdown passes. The Churchmen fell short though as they lost a classic heartbreaker 28-26. The squad closed their season by rolling over Haverford 35-6. Although the Inter-Ac title eluded them the E.A. football team was the epitome of overachievers.

Coach Maude Kent.

This year's Girls' Tennis Team had an excellent season, considering that it has only been in existence for two years as a varsity sport. Although tennis is traditionally an individual sport, the team came together as a spirited unit which contributed to its overwhelming success. The coach, Maude Kent, through her patience and understanding, helped the team to realize its potential.

The majority of the team consisted of underclassmen. The sophomores, Kristin McIlhenney, Kristin Strid, Heidi Chagan, and Allison Harmelin, proved to be a very lively group, making our practices and bus rides loads of fun. Allison, who played third singles, won many of her matches, partly because of her off-the-wall remarks to her opponents in the middle of the points. She also dazzled them with her fantastic speed, due to the fact that she never wore shoes on the court! Heidi played doubles with the two Kristins. These three people were always supportive of each other, screaming for each other between all the points. This support was most evident when they won.

Our one and only freshman, sensational Kim Jennings, was by far the most dominant player. Team support was not entirely needed, because Kim was so phenomenally successful, but they did so because of their interest in the game of tennis. Junior Mindy Menkowitz began playing half-way through the season when she realized that field hockey would not bring her a varsity letter.

The three seniors on the team performed well both in practice and in games. Kara Mansfield and Alex Golaski made up one of the finest doubles teams in the league. Captain Lauren O'Connor had a disappointing season due to a nagging wrist injury, but she was able to win many key matches for the Churchwomen.

Overall, the Girls' Tennis team had a great season, and the departing seniors wish next year's team good luck.

The 1987 Episcopal soccer men/woman were unable to continue their winning ways and repeat for the fourth straight year as Inter-Ac champions. Despite strong opening season optimism, the Churchmen could only salvage a mere .500 mark of 8-8-6. Although the final season record reflects a less than great season, the year was marked with many highlights, encompassing incredible individual talent and strong teamwork. With some of the best players in the Main Line area, combined with strong leadership, the team showed a lot of growth and character.

Here is a review of the team, player by players. Andy Christos, after scoring a 50 yard shot vs. 1986 State Champion Strath Haven, celebrated by spending the rest of the season as a spectator on the 50 yard line of the football field. Matt Evans' strong leadership could not be measured, nor could the number of stitches he received this season. Steve Strawbridge was a strong midfielder, but was striken with a case of punching bag syndrome after the Germantown Academy game. Todd Magargee was the best success story on the team, but some people said he let it go through his legs. Dave McMullin provided great intensity . . . by bringing his father to the games. Larry Flick, the senior fullback, didn't let anybody get by, except a freshman on Haverford Day. Christina Monacelli, the first female on the Varsity Soccer team, was unable to show her incredible chest trapping ability. Christian Smith had incredible finesse and skill, but spent too much time asking the referees stupid questions. Bill Marvin had two incredible headers vs. Radnor High School, but he fell victim to chronic asthma the latter half of the season. Mike Goldstein was a back-up goalie and had an incredible game against State Champion Lower Merion, but gathered too many penalties for shouting lines from Pink Floyd at the opposition. Mark Breuers had an inspirational effort against G.A., but due to several blue splinters in his backside, was hindered for the second half of the season. Glen Carey was a great stopper back and gave new definition to the word solid. Last but not least, Sean Casey was the stronghold of the midfield, and provided great inspiration. Also, senior Jason Freeman, and next year's captains, Evan Stein and Brett "Elvis" McGovern, deserve kudos for their efforts this year.

Coach Dan Dougherty

The boys basketball team turned in another stunning season. The team successfully defended its Inter-Ac championship and finished with a remarkable 23-2 record, cruising through its December non-league schedule undefeated. Included among the victories were wins in the Hill School Tournament championship and the Williamsport Tournament championships, in which defeated perennial state power Williamsport. December also saw a victory over Bonner, the eventual Catholic League Champion.

During the Inter-Ac schedule, suffered two heartbreaking losses to Penn Charter, each by three points. However, swept through the rest of the league, including two narrow victories over Malvern. The end result was an 8-2 league mark and a tie for the league championship with Penn Charter.

Episcopal was led throughout the season by Co-captains Paul Chambers and Brett Moore, both of whom finished the year averaging over 12 points a game. These two leaders were complemented by sophomore Eugene Burroughs, who averaged 19.7 points a game. Michael Milone and Patrick Chambers, two defensive standouts, rounded out the starting lineup. These five were relieved by sophomore Jim Shanahan and junior Jon Walsh, who provided valuable offensive spark. Bill Reedy, Michael Jordan, Chris Wyszynski, Tom Devirgiliis, and Chris Bradley helped the team with their constant hustle in practice and performed capably when called upon. Of course, Coach Dougherty's coaching brilliance and constant effort was the key to the team's success.

At the end of the season, Paul Chambers and Eugene Burroughs received first team All-Inter-Ac honors, while Brett Moore received second team honor. The 1987-88 boys basketball team firmly established itself as one of the best in school's history and maintained the new tradition of Episcopal basketball excellence.

The 1987-88 Varsity Girls Basketball team started the season strongly, with two quick victories.

The team went on to defeat both Delco Christian and Baldwin in overtime. Against their league foe, Kim Zinman sank a field goal with :04 seconds left to play to send the game into overtime. With :00 seconds remaining in double overtime, Christina Monacelli iced the victory by making both her foul shots. The team won a decisive victory over Shipley, scoring 72 points, a record team high, and had six players in double figures. Against Inter-Ac rivals Agnes Irwin, the girls again went into overtime. With the score tied and a fraction of a second left in overtime, an Agnes Irwin player was fouled. The game ended on the foul line.

The team was led by four returning varsity seniors. Captain and four-time varsity player, Kim Zinman, led by example. She was able to leave her mark on all aspects of the game, shooting, ball-handling, as well as on defense, against much larger opponents. Another four-time varsity player was Liz Taraila. Her consistent foul shooting and defense kept Episcopal in close games and put them ahead in others. Christina Monacelli added super-hustling and clutch shooting to the team. Anna Papageorge's speed and ball-handling skills were instrumental in setting up fast breaks and plays.

The other returning varsity player, Kim Tinari led the team in shooting with 124 points and averaged over 10 points a game.

Additions to the Varsity were Juniors Jen Finan, Melanie Cogan, and Elizabeth Barker and Sophomore Janice Franks. Finan and Cogan added solid all-around play throughout the season. Injured for the first half of the season, Barker came back strong, using her height and working the inside. Franks skills at guard were an invaluable asset.

Coach Bruce Stone

The 1987-1988 Ice Hockey Team experienced tremendous success. Last year's record of 4-13-1 was greatly improved to an 8-8-2 this year. Episcopal witnessed many regular season highlights including early victories over Bonner and Haverford High School. The strong start didn't last as the mid-season slump hit EA with great impact. Episcopal got the puck rolling once again, and finished the season with its first playoff berth in . . . well, a long time.

Many would attribute the team's success to the inspiring coaching of Mr. Bruce Stone. Stone received "Coach of the Year" honors for his efforts. But even with outstanding coaching the team is not complete without its players. This year was no exception. Each team needs to develop a strong defense, and this year Joe Auteri anchored EA's. With steady performances night in and night out, Joe earned All Star honors and played brilliantly throughout the season. Steve Potter was also a very needed addition to the team. Whether between the pipes or nea the door, Steve's leadership was invaluable.

The rest of the defensemen were strong until the end of the season when unfortunate injuries led to the team skating with 2 or 3 defensemen throughout the playoffs. Mike Campanale and Jason McDermott will lead the defense next year. Co-captain Matt Evans will be lost to graduation. Matt led the defense with 24 goals and his efforts earned him the "Sportsmanship Award" for the league. This perennial all-star was supported by senior Co-captain Chris Littlepage. Littlepage along with juniors Theo Yedinsky and Matt Luber led the offensive with nearly 50% of the team's goals. Chris's talents earned him the respect of the players, both on and off the ice. Theo and Matt were primarily the offensive threat for the team and their hard work earned them All Star positions.

John Morres was always in the thick of things, Chris Johnson surprised his opponents with his deceptive skating style. Mike Goldstein's hard work earned him the respect of the younger players and his leadership was truly invaluable to the team, not to mention his creative hairdo. Mike Paskin hung in there and worked hard throughout the season.

We would like to give a special thanks to the underclassmen. Bill Scott, Brad Boyd, Scott Anderson, Ralph Sando, Carl Krum and Chris Mayer deserve much more credit than has been given to them. Without their hard work and dedication we would not have been successful as a team.

Coach Thomas Kent

For the past two years the Episcopal Academy boys squash team has consisted of predominantly underclassmen. Last year junior Co-captains Bill Marvin and Marc Breuers led a group of highly-talented fellow juniors to a winning season filled with much success. This year, those highly talented juniors became a tightly organized group of seniors, ready to take on the prep-school squash world. With the help of junior Sam Halpert as the number 7 position, the 6 seniors paved the way towards one of Episcopal's most successful squash seasons ever. Finishing second in the Choate National Prep-School Tournament gave this year's team claim to being one of the best teams in the nation.

This status was maintained throughout the year, as the squashmen emerged undefeated in their New England Tour, and placed second in the Inter-Ac behind long-time squash power Haverford. This year's success has been a long time coming, and can be directly credited to Coach Tim Kent's awesome ability, along with the hard work and dedication shown by the team in the past 3 years. Two-time Co-captains Bill Marvin and Marc Breuers have been under Coach Kent's instruction since their freshman years, and this proved key in their experience and leadership. Along with senior Adam Farber, they made up a very competitive top ladder. It was the middle part of the ladder, composed of Dave McMullin, Steve Strawbridge and Christian Smith, that led the team to victory, winning 90% of their individual matches. With the talent of underclassmen Sam Halpert, Andre Stephano, Bobby Clark and Whit Strawbridge, Episcopal's boys squash should continue to have great success, but it will be hard for future teams to match this year's performance.

It was 7:30 on a cold winter morning in 1985 when a small group of girls, warmly bundled, timidly entered EA's squash courts. They looked very odd . . . like eskimos clutching squash rackets. Then Episcopal's first girl's squash club set to work practicing.

Three years later in 1988, the scene was very different. It was 3:30 on a cold winter afternoon in 1988 when a group of seven girls, warmly bundled in matching "EA Girls' Squash" sweatshirts, confidently marched onto EA's squash courts. They looked very far from odd as they defeated their opponent, St. Andrew's.

Obviously the past three years have seen much change in Episcopal's girls squash program. The girls who made the program what it is today take much pride in its tremendous growth rather than the team's actual victories. Their St. Andrew's victory was their first and, unfortunately, last, but their improvement throughout the season was incredible.

Extremely well-coached and encouraged by Miss Betsy Lippincott and always supported by former coach Mr. Bill Whelan, the seven-girl team learned and polished new squash skills, but more importantly, learned integrity and sportsmanship. The ladder consisted of (from $^{3}1$ to $^{3}7$) Captain Alix Golaski, Lauren O'Conner, Jen Haines, Brearley Rauch, Janine Sisak, Heather Boyd, and Jane Oberwager. Highlights included Alix, Lauren, Jen and Brearley's single victories over challenging opponents, and Janine, astounded all by improving through her first year of squash so much as to be elected captain for 1989.

Next year with the graduation of four of the seven girls on the ladder, EA girls' squash will see even more changes. However with a solid foundation now established the team should fare very well.

Coach Christine Deutsch

Over the past five years the success of the Episcopal swimming team has resembled that of a roller-coaster. Some teams capitalize on the full wave of the ride while others get stuck in the rut at the bottom. The 1988 squad epitomized the downward slope of the ride as they diligently worked throughout the whole year. Unfortunately, their efforts did not hit paydirt as the team suffered four straight Inter-Ac losses. In a sport where losing can be viciously contagious, the Churchmen held their heads high meet after meet. Coach Christine Deutsch demanded nothing less from the team and they responded in a very positive way.

In November Coach Deutsch manned the helm of the team with a small arsenal of swimmers. However she kept an open mind and with her two Co-Captains, Glen Carey and Doug Kiley by her side they charted a course right through February. The team's strongest suits were their spirit and perspective. Each member understood that a team consisting of only 14 people would be considered an underdog in the league. In the first days of December we broke the ice in dual meets by squaring off against Haverford High. Upon observing the entire team for the first time, Coach Deutsch delivered a master line up to propel the team to victory. As the final event approached, the medley relay, the squad was down by one point. They swept the event for their first victory of the year. As the famed wrestling coach Crawford Hill once wrote, "Always good to start with a win." Unfortunately these words were not applicable for the rest of the team's season. Perennial league powers Germantown Academy and Malvern were just too much for the Churchmen to handle. Nevertheless every member of the team deserves credit for sheer determination and relentless effort.

Coach Edith H. Rowland

The Episcopal Academy's girls' swim team concluded its season with an extremely tight contest against Agnes Irwin. Unfortunately they lost in the final race and went down in defeat. Nonetheless, the squad enjoyed another fine year under the direction of head coach Edith Rowland. The strength of the team came from a group of sensational freshmen. Since the team will only be losing one senior, captain Molly Gerber, the future for them looks extremely promising.

Five freshman; Michelle Petock, Beth Wortmann, Tracy Freeman, Sharon Moore, and Catherine Blume, dazzled the opposition with their versatile talent. The entire group qualified for the Eastern Interscholastic Swimming Championships. First year swimmer, Heather Flick, improved tremendously as the year progressed and only added to the strong corps of freshman. Another 9th grader, diver Kristy Johnson worked hard and with more experience she will be very tough to beat.

A small but dedicated group of sophomores and juniors rounded out the depth of the team. Newcomers Laurie Hood, Becky Demorest, and Kristin Strid helped the team by unselfishly swimming in some of the less desirable events. The determination of Katie Bowes pushed her to another exhilarating season. Kate Thomas, Becca Huston, Becky White, Carolyn Waxler, and Julie Kim displayed fine attitudes and had solid seasons. Their spirit was unyielding at both practices and meets. Katie Glick, also a junior dove for the team in critical meets.

This year's team was the largest for the girls in the history of the Academy. The highlight of the season was a surprisingly easy victory against the Baldwin School. The aquateers were able to compile a winning record and the future brings much promise to the team's success. They are a dedicated type of athlete rarely found in high school sports.

Arguably, the Episcopal Academy varsity winter track team is the most unsung in sports history. Little is expected from, or known about, this group of individuals, which ran miles and miles every day in the snow, except on Fridays, when they competed indoors at the new Germantown Academy facility. However, after their awe-inspiring performance against rival Inter-Ac squads, the winter track team cannot but expect to be bombarded by acollades and admiration from their basketball-shooting, squash-squashing, lap-swimming, wrestler-pinning brothers and sisters, and from every fan of quality athletics in general.

Episcopal's relay teams dominated the meets, subduing all adversaries in the 4 × 400 and 4 × 100 relays. Dave Marston, Kelly Kent, Cliff Cutter, and Dave Gordon held the best mile relay time in every meet, while the same team, sans Gordon but with the addition of super frosh, Steve Murray, consistently won the 400-meter relay. The team posted many propitious individual performances as well. Cutter, the fastest man in the Inter-Ac, outran all other sprinters in the 50 yard dash, and Kent proved himself to be one of the Inter-Ac's most talented high hurdlers. Seniors Seth Slotkin and Dave Bergen placed highly in the half-mile and quarter-mile races. Joel Neigh and Morgan Baird ran consistently well in any event. Murray ran some very encouraging miles, and was the consensus choice for the team's most valuable freshman.

Coach Crawford Hill

This year Coach Hill and his wrestlers pulled together another season. After winning the league championship three years in a row, this year's team hoped to continue the streak, and worked harder to achieve this goal than any other team Crawford Hill has ever coached.

Despite a disappointing loss to Haverford School and finishing second in the Inter-Ac, this team did not give up. They compensated for their losses by finishing the season very strongly, placing second in the Pennsylvania state tournament and seventh in the nationals at Lehigh, by far the best of any local schools including Haverford.

An unprecedented number of injuries plagued the wrestlers this year; however, the spirit and enthusiasm of the team remained high. A 13-8 record was the final result of the wrestler's endeavors.

Frank Mascaro, a four year all Inter-Ac wrestler, and Chris Suplee, ranked third in Southeastern Pennsylvania, were the two outstanding captains who provided excellent leadership and moral support to get the wrestlers through many trying times. The other four seniors, Dennis Nicholson, Jeff Coale, Charlie Erwin, and Scott Freemann worked very hard and were always reliable.

Tim Gardener and Matt Schaffer both had very good seasons and are next year's returning captains.

Coach Jim Farrell

The Episcopal Academy Varsity Baseball Team opened its 1988 season strongly under new head coach Jim Farrell and his two assistant coaches Greg Bozzi and Mike Trudel. These three coaches with similar baseball backgrounds will provide EA's team with the knowledge and strategy needed to have a successful season.

Although the team lost six of last year's seniors, seven varsity players will move up and fill in at the necessary positions. Despite the loss of pitching sensations Chad Croasdale and Andy Cross, this year's squad of pitchers, Brett Moore, Bill Rankin and newcomers Bill Reedy and Andre Stephano, will be able to stand up to the challenge. Keeping the pitchers under control will be returning catcher Todd Magargee and newcomer Tom DeVirgiliis. The team will be enhanced by a tough infield led by returning shortstop and co-captain Larry Flick. Tony List returns to second base. These two plus new arrivals R. P. Hallenbeck at third base and Jim Shanahan at first base create an infield that the opposition may find difficult to hit through. The outfield is also developing strong defensive skills. It will be led by centerfielder, and co-captain Gerard Rosato. Marc Matarazzo will be positioned in rightfield while JV great Evan Stein will play in leftfield. In addition to these starters Jim Farrell can look with confidence to his bench when necessary.

Already the 1988 baseball team is on its way to a successful season having won three of its first nonleague games. Included in these games were a 12-0 win over Archbishop Carroll, an 8-0 win over Lamberton, an 8-6 loss to Central, and a 13-12 win over Friend's Central. With strong pitching, good defense, and a powerful hitting, The Episcopal Baseball Team should no doubt be a contender in the Inter-Ac.

Coach Edwin Shafer

The 1988 Episcopal Academy Golf team has depth like it has never had before. Despite graduating two of the top four players, the team will gain strength from new members. Anchored by senior four-year veterans Mark Niness and Jason Freeman, the team will demand a lot from its captains. Also key to the budding team are seniors Jeff Coale, Chris Littlepage, and Doug "Yes I want your money" Kiley, juniors Sam Halpert, Rich Bruch, Fred Duling, and rising golf maniac Theo "Keep my head together" Yedinsky.

Last season, the EA golfers finished in a tie for second in the six team Inter-Ac league, but this year the team is striving to earn the title, but competition is fierce and the golf course becomes the greatest enemy known to man. Yet this brave team has the confidence, the determination, and the drive to get to the top. Speaking of coaches, Mr. Edwin Shafer will attempt once again to beat a single member of the team.

The toughest competition should come from those big Penn Charter boys who snuck away with the title last year. Other teams include Germantown Academy, Chestnut Hill, Malvern Prep, and the Haverford School.

Last year we broke the all-time record for spectators of a match, shattering the old record of one with a roaring gallery of two. To protect those involved no names can be released at this time. This year the team is hoping to attract even more spectators.

Remember, keep your eye on the ball and thanks for your support.

Coach John Wynne

The Episcopal stickmen started off the 1988 preseason, sporting two wins against Westfield Academy, the 1987 New Jersey State Champions, and West Chester East High School. Getting to the states this year will be much more difficult than last, with the graduation of two perennial powers; Gabby Roe and Bill Miller. The Co-captains Andy Christos and Carter Trudel have provided excellent leadership in both practices and games. Returning letter winners are juniors: Tim Gardner, John Noel, Frank Rosato; seniors: Frank Mascaro, Marc Breuers, Clark Burk, Michael Jordan, Dave McMullin, Carter Trudel, Dave Ryan and J. J. Durant. The team thus far has an optimistic attitude towards extending our Inter-Ac and State Championship titles, but coaches Mr. John Wynne, Mr. Larry Madara, and Mr. Benson Goldberger believe that it will be difficult to do as well as we did last season.

This year's players will have to play more as a team. Although we have talent, it is not so outstanding that individuals will win our games for us; it will take a team effort. Our Virginia trip over spring break, hopefully will promote the team unity necessary to hold up our previous records.

You can be sure that all teams have their sights set on the Episcopal Lacrosse team. As seniors move on and underclassmen work to the future, all will remember this season as one of the best.

Coach Elizabeth Lippincott
and Coach Cannie Shafer

The Girl's Athletic Program is expanding in the number of participants and consequently in the level of competition. Despite major obstacles such as one field for all six girl's teams and little funding for any major expansions, the girls strive to be top contenders in the inter-ac league each year. New women have become parts of the coaching staff, providing more individualized attention to each level of play, whether it be Middle School or Varsity. Roberta ("Birtie") Hitchler from Roanoke College will coach the third team. Miss Elizabeth Lippincott, an All-American player from Denison, is a significant asset as an assistant Varsity coach. Cannie Shafer, the Varsity Lacrosse coach for over five years is certainly the one individual responsible for the establishment of Episcopal Lacrosse as a contender in the league.

The Varsity Lacrosse team has ten returning seniors, four first-year varsity seniors, and four juniors. Anne Heilman is the captain of this team and an offensive threat at her wing position. Kim Zinman and Christina Monacelli combine speed and skill to balance the attack. Anna Papageorge always goes for the interception and shows off her speed. Kara Mansfield and Jennifer Haines will effectively contain the opponents' offense at their respective wing positions. Mary Beth Bongiovanni, Kathy Beck, and Molly Gerber execute everything from double-teaming on defense to scoring on attack. Priscilla Latta has been and will be "a rage in the cage;" she is a hard worker, a dedicated player, and a standout goalie in the league. First year seniors, Heather Boyd and Ingrid Whitaker will combine their skill and play first home. Liz Taraila will play center, providing midfield connections and points on the new score board (thank you very much). Four juniors are on the team. Becky White, Janine Sisak, Jennifer Finan and Stacia Burk will battle the seniors for playing time and will definitely put on quite a show.

This team has the ability to be first in the League; they have the right combination of players and the incredible leadership of captain Anne Heilman and coach Cannie Shafer, plus the helpful managing of Jeanette Chandlee.

Coach George Shafer

The Episcopal Academy tennis team hopes to continue the improvement it has shown in the last year and a half. After a very unsuccessful 1986 campaign the squad surprised many people last year by placing second in the Inter-Academic league and coasting through their non-league opponents. Due to the fact that last year's team had only one senior in its ranks virtually all of the returnees are varsity letter winners. Heading this year's squad is two time captain Adam Farber who is a strong singles player and an invaluable team leader. The most talented member of the group is without a doubt junior sensation Lars Beck. This four time letter winner is extremely hard to beat when he is at his best and will rack up some very important victories this year. Dave Beers provides the utmost in consistency and composure in his play and should make some serious waves within the league this year. The doubles teams of the past couple years have been the Achilles Heel to the Churchmen. Juniors Richard Kim and Andy Saland are a sure bet to rectify this problem in the future. Their early season performances have been nothing short of brilliant and they will be tough to beat. Scott Freemann and Christian Smith are returning lettermen eager to taste a bite of the championship pie. If these two regain the form they possessed last year they just might get a chance to do so. The third triumverate if you will consists of Chris Johnson, Manoj Shyamalan, and Andrew Snyder. Their performance this year will be the pivotal ball concerning the team's success. Finally the team of Mike Rose and Cordell Whitlock could be something to remember if they come of age.

Coach Bill Burdick

This year's track season proves to be an exciting one. The Varsity team suffers from sheer lack of numbers for the second year in a row. Fifteen members is not a good matchup to Penn Charter's 40 man roster. Episcopal, has however, excellent athletes and if we can take first, second, or third places in each event we should be able to compete. With the talent present this looks like a realistic goal.

Co-captain Dennis Nicholson will show his expertise in the long, high and triple jumps as well as the 400 and relay running events. Nicholson, a man dedicated to the track season like no other, will sport his new Nike Zoom Ultra Spikes which should provide the extra edge over competition.

Also in the Zoom Ultras is fellow Co-captain Dave Marston. A Tri-captain and triple running letter winner, Marston excells in the mile and 2 mile events. In his past two track seasons, he has not failed to place in the championship meet.

This talent alone might seem like enough to win a meet, but Episcopal's talent goes far beyond this.

Cliff Cutter, the junior standout from Winter Track is looking for repeated performances in the 100 and 200 yd. dashes. His second and first place finishes in last year's championship meet, will provide an excellent starting point for a strong season.

Also adding to the list is another Winter Track standout, Kelly Kent. He will be a strong hurdler in the league meets as well as in the non-league meets.

Other members, like Matt Carpenter, Dave Gordon, Steve Murray, Kurt Hoffman, Rocco Galleli and Jeff Venzie, will increase the team's potential for an excellent season.

CONGRATULATIONS
FROM YOUR YOUNGER
BROTHERS AND SISTERS
OF THE CLASS OF 1991

Todd
We haven't been very close the past couple of years, but I hope in years to come, we will become friends. I know Mom, Dad, and Scott are as proud of you as I am. So from all of us, we love you! Ashley

Brett
I really enjoyed the rides in my future truck each morning. I hope my years at E.A. will be as successful as yours. From the person you enjoyed so much. Eric

Gerard
I hope you have the greatest success at college. Everyone will miss you. Good Luck, Love, Catherine

Mike
You've finally made it! Good luck and don't worry — I'll take good care of your room. Love, Jen

Larry
We've shared a unique relationship that nobody else could experience or understand. You've been a best friend, an awesome brother, and a third parent all at the same time. I love you, Heather

Lauren
Thanks for helping me out. I hope you have a great 4 years. Love, Edwin

MEB
You've been more than a best friend to me all my life. Everything we have done has been very special. I will really miss you! Good luck at college! Love, Jos.

Charlie
Thanks for paving the way for me at high school. Good luck in college. Love, Brigette

Jason
Even though we haven't always gotten along, I want you to know you've helped me a lot into becoming who I am. I'll miss you when you are at Duke! Lots of love, Tracy

Ingrid
Our relationship has been very unique. I am so proud of you and I hope you love college. I will miss you a lot. Love, Brandon

Steve
If you were smart like me you would have gone to college in Chicago. But since you aren't, I hope you have a heck of a time at college. I'll miss you sincerely, Your bro

Heather
I hate to see you go! Have a great 4 years. I know I will! Love, Brad

In January 1988, Berean completes its first 100 years of successful operation and enters into its second century. From a part-time organization meeting once a month in a church basement it has grown to a $30 million financial institution. Deposits are nearly $27 million and reserves and net worth are more than $2 million.

All deposits are federally insured up to $100,000.

To be a leader! What is that to be?
To stand between a people and their foes
And earn suspicion for a recompense;
To care for men more than they care themselves;

To be a judge of men, that none may rank
In estimation higher than his worth,
Nor fail of scope to prove his quality;

To do and do and die to raise a tribe
So robbed and bound and ignorantly weak
That God himself conceals their destiny —
To be a leader! God, that is the cost!

Thanks for making my years at EA so happy.

Leslie, Kristen, and Lyn — no matter how far apart we may be, you will always be close to my heart. I love you guys!

Kathy, MEB (woosh!), Cindy ("Cinner"), Anne, 'Stina, Liz, Ingrid, Kim, Molly (Sweet Sixteen, Duke, the shore — almost busted?!), and Lauren (the nice thing about special friends is that the specialness lasts a lifetime . . . ) — always remember our many, many great times!

"Brew," Jeanette, "Patti," Dave, Dennis, Cordell, and Jason — you are, in every sense, true friends. I cannot thank you enough for the memories you have given me or for your wonderful friendships.

Anna — from pizza (M&M's) to popcorn (microwave), from O.C. to Bermuda, from Whitney to Madonna, from running red lights to hitting parked cars, we have tasted, seen, heard, and done a lot. I'm just glad we went through it together! We have a crazy friendship . . . but I love it!

Manoj — forget it . . . JUST KIDDING! Always remember Swami, The Hut, crazy driving, our movie, Bio, our wine, w. supremacy, "Will you —?," NYC (I can't wait!), double chin, "Bics" & "Lis," New Year's Eve, Tabula all-nighters (curled up), and, last but not least, ME! You have always been there for me this year, and our friendship means more to me than words can say. I love you.

Heather & Kara ("Bo" & "Razzi") — since you two get a whole page with me, I'll be short and sweet. YOU ARE THE BEST!!!

KMM

We've laughed together, we've cried together, and through it all you've taught me so much. You have earned my most sincere respect for your examples of strength, individuality, and compassion. All our many memories: Hilton Head (2°) . . . parents in London, Maine, Florida . . . IT . . . GOMER . . . Poconos . . . summer afternoons . . . eating . . . dieting . . . and twilight talks — they have been the best! We found in each other something we never expected, but then again we've learned that the best things in life are never anticipated. You are a part of me. Someday we'll both find all the happiness we deserve . . . I love you!

JAH —

What would I have done without you these past years through all my adventures? You've been my #1 fan and my life line of support — you'll never know how much I needed it and appreciate it. All our moments, be they exciting or mellow, are unforgettable — SHORE . . . concerts . . . P's away . . . squash . . . splurging . . . shopping . . . recovering from falls (and learning!) — can they get any better??? Wherever you may go, a part of my heart will always belong to you!!! We sure proved how wrong first impressions can be . . .

Love You . . .
"Bo"

A special thanks to Mr. Jeffrey Lott, our Tabula Advisor, for his guidance and support during the year.

ELIZABETH TARAILA

Cordell — She's going to hit me one of these days . . . INXS . . . Yak Party . . . Sure, nothing happened with Jason . . . The Woman behind the layout . . . You should be proud of her, Bob . . . In all seriousness, you were a major source of design ideas . . . It made this the best yearbook ever . . . Keep it up.

ADAM FARBER

Captain Typewriter. Don't touch it and no I won't leave it overnight . . . That's O.K., we don't want to have a meeting at your house anyway . . . It's Doctor not Mister, Jerk . . . The man behind the layout . . . You always had a position and kept it — we admire you for that . . . Thanks.

MANOJ SHYAMALAN

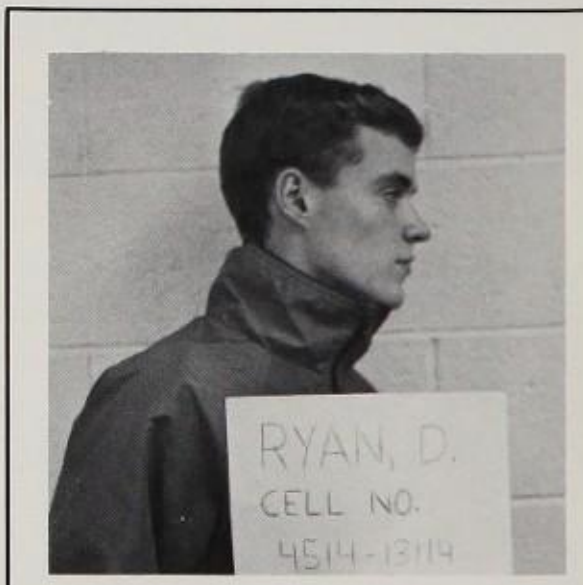
Watch those hands Manoj . . . We have photos . . . We lose track — Jen? — Kara? Jean? Others? . . . Dave — You didn't D me on INXS . . . Nautilus . . . Sleeping . . . Dogging . . . Working? . . . Actually, you got the pages in way before last year's staff — but then look at their book . . . Thanks for everything.

HEATHER BOYD

How dare you call me Kirby!!! . . . Were those cookies granite or marble . . . Control your flirtation level . . . You have sacrificed much for this book and it shows. Believe it or not one of the editors does love you as a good friend. Thanks for everything.

KIMBERLY ZINMAN

Do you ever agree? . . . You can call Mr. Hill about whatever . . . The Burning Bush . . . Sorry no alcohol in the yearbook . . . You made a nice recovery after Ryan was imprisoned . . . Thanks for picking up the slack . . . We sure needed your help.



DAVID RYAN

We forgot you existed, knucklehead . . . But then that's what prison does to you . . . The time you did put in was invaluable and we appreciate it . . . Stay up all night and morning . . . Then fail Carpy's Test — it doesn't matter — it's first trimester.

JEANETTE CHANDLEE

Not fat honey just luscious . . . Oh yes!!! We will most assuredly put a picture of you and Jon in . . . Get DUKE off your arse!!! In the car for three hours with _____ but nothing happened? You joined us when we needed you most. You are truly dedicated and we appreciate that!!!!

JENNIFER HAINES

Roses are red violets are blue Tim or Graham — Who's who?? What's a Manoj . . . New Year's Rockin Eve Bubbly, Bubbly, Bubbly . . . Your time, patience and cooperation have been never ending. Muchos Gracias Jennifer!!!!

KARA MANSFIELD

The Dellster is waiting patiently . . . The Utopian Prom . . . What's the ponderosa? Pictures — What are they??? We don't blame it all on you . . . You've done a great job!!!

MATT EVANS

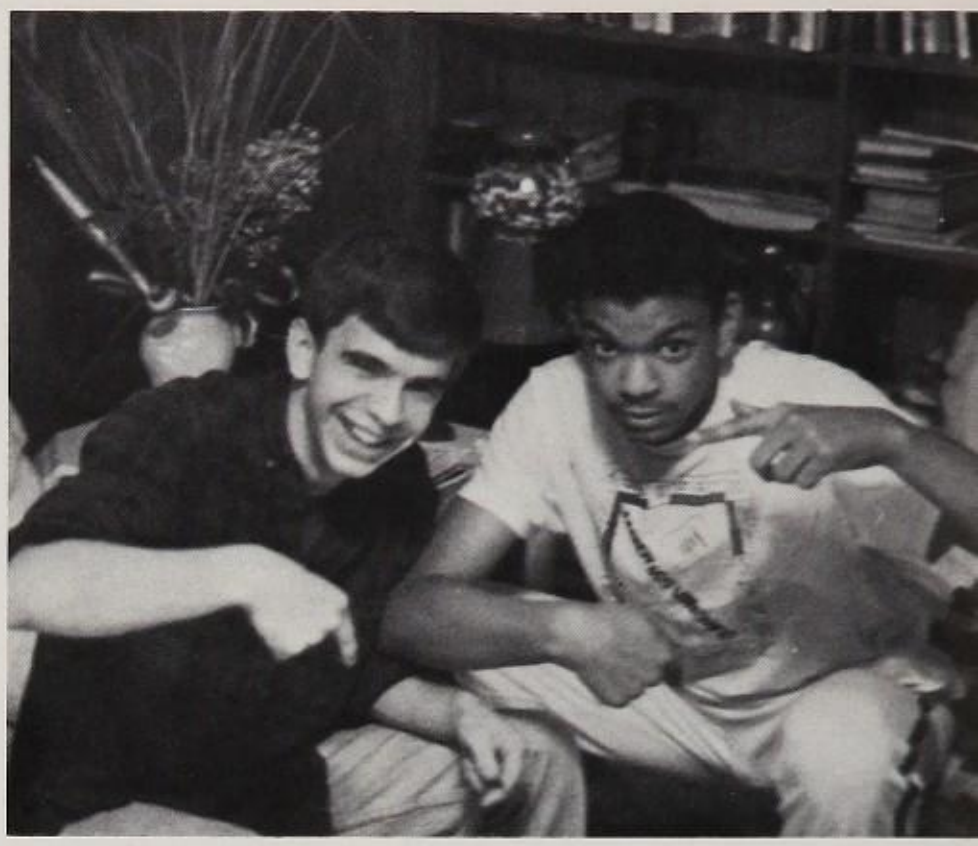
Yo carrot top . . . He's from Kansas what does he know??? Who's Who in Sports my butt . . . You pulled it off buddy somehow and we are grateful.

MARC BREUERS

Always fixing things . . . A great photographer . . . Leave the damn ping pong net alone and play the stupid game! . . . Get that ugly black beast out of my face . . . Guard House food . . . More salt please . . . Those meatballs give us gas. Thanks for everything.

CHRISTINA MONACELLI

What does your dad do? . . . Hell of a house . . . Nice Laugh!! Marvin get your books NOW!!! Stokes — Oh Yeah he was editor last year . . . Your hospitality was great as was the quality of your work . . . Congratulations!!



Get off our D's . . . Graham's page is an embarrassment to the Academy . . . Here's to us, there's damn few like us . . . This is going to be a great book . . . Manoj and Jen do some work . . . See Dick Drink, See Dick Drive, See Dick Die, Don't Be A Dick . . . That's all right Mike, you can go to Spain . . . Nice pool table Bill . . . Cindy — drive on the road please . . . Clark — Now that's a real pool table . . . Get your shots . . . Faces of Death . . . Digital Derby . . . Race You to Cordell's . . . DD . . . You want anything to eat, Lott's buying . . . Thanks again Adam for the house . . . Hey Manoj I hear you give great back rubs . . . Ha! Ha! Ha! He who laughs last laughs the best . . . Dave — "why am I the only one up at 8:00?" . . . Your house is my house . . . One day it snowed and . . . We did sleep in the athletic assembly . . . Thanks to all the hosts: Whitlock, Marston, Monacelli, Burk, Marvin, Shyamalan, Breuers, Ninness . . . We're done so get off our D's.
